6. WHO WILL SEE YOUR PERSONAL DATA AND WHO MIGHT WE SHARE IT WITH?

We may share your personal data where necessary with the parties, and for the purposes, set out below:

- internally with employees of the Anesco Group in order to respond to emails and contact requests from you;
- to third parties who help us provide any part of Our Site or the Services, to the limited extent required for such help, and on condition that they may not further disclose your data or use it for any other purpose; or
- to third parties to whom we may choose to sell, transfer or merge parts of our business or our assets. Alternatively, we may seek to acquire other businesses or merge with them. If a change happens to our business, then the new owners may use your personal data in the same way as set out in this Privacy Notice.

In certain circumstances, we may be legally required to share certain information held by us, which may include your personal data, for example, where we are involved in legal proceedings, where we are complying with legal obligations, a court order, or a governmental authority.

We may compile statistics about the use of Our Site including data on traffic, usage patterns, user numbers, sales, and other information. All such data will be anonymised and will not include any personally identifying data, or any anonymised data that can be combined with other data and used to identify you.

7. INTERNATIONAL TRANSFERS

Some of our external third parties, including service providers and professional advisers, are based outside the EU or UK so their processing of your personal data will involve a transfer of data outside the EU or UK. Whenever we transfer your personal data out of the EU or UK, we ensure a similar degree of protection is afforded to it by ensuring at least one of the following safeguards is implemented:

- We will only transfer your personal data to countries that have been deemed to provide an adequate level of protection for personal data; and
- Where we use certain service providers, we may use specific contracts approved for use in the EU or UK which give personal data the same protection it has in the EU or UK.

8. FOR HOW LONG DO WE STORE YOUR DATA?

We will only retain your personal data for as long as reasonably necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, regulatory, tax, accounting or reporting requirements. We may retain your personal data for a longer period in the event of a complaint or if we reasonably believe there is a prospect of litigation in respect to our relationship with you. In addition, by law for tax purposes we must keep basic information about our customers (including Contact, Identity, Financial and Transaction Data) for six years after they cease being customers.

To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data, we consider the amount, nature and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of the personal data, the purposes for which we process the personal data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal, regulatory, tax, accounting or other requirements.

If we have relied upon your explicit consent as the lawful basis for processing your personal data then you have the right to withdraw that consent at any time, and in some circumstances, you can ask us to delete your data (please refer to section 9 for more details relating to your legal rights).

In some circumstances we may anonymise your personal data (so that it can no longer be associated with you) for research or statistical purposes in which case we may use this information indefinitely without further notice to you.

9. YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS – GENERAL

You have certain rights under data protection laws in relation to your personal data. This includes the right to:

- e) Request the transfer of your personal data to you or to a third party;
- f) Object to the processing of your personal data; and
- g) Withdraw consent at any time where we are relying on consent to process your personal data.

Some of these rights are not automatic, and we reserve the right to discuss with you why we might not comply with a request from you to exercise them.

We do not charge a fee for you to access your personal data or to exercise any of the other rights. However, we reserve the right to charge reasonable fees for additional copies of information that has already been supplied to you, and for requests that are manifestly unfounded or excessive, particularly where such requests are repetitive.

To exercise any of the above listed rights, please contact info@anesco.co.uk.
